

Open the menu

Click on the item you want to move. Hold the mouse down and drag it into place. It will snap into place. Dragging it a bit to the right below another menu item will indent it, thus creating it as a sub-item in a menu.

Voila! Moved into a new place on the menu. Clicking on the tiny down arrow opens up all the options for that menu item - including its visibility and its label, i.e. the txt that displays on the front end
