As a child, Wendy Gillespie heard the New York Pro Musica in concert and was inexplicably attracted to polyphony long before she learned the word. She was already a string player, so the viol was the obvious instrument to pursue. In the ensuing decades, she has performed on five continents, most often as a founding member of the viol consort Fretwork and long-time member of the ensemble Phantasm, but also as a bass viol soloist, and not least as a contented continuo player.

More recently, Wendy has been specializing in renaissance viols and early repertory with the consort Nota Bene and appearing regularly with The Barefoot Allstars of California and the not yet discovered trio Lyra Waye. In 2017, after 32 years on the faculty of Indiana University, Gillespie graduated to Professor Emerita. Since then she has been on a journey to learn more about life, the universe, and everything.

A peaceful PlayDay

To get the first PlayDay of the new year off to a peaceful start, let us sink together into a warm bath of gorgeous six-part Renaissance polyphony by Costanzo Festa, Alfonso Ferrabosco I, and Orlando di Lasso with motets built around the antiphon “Da pacem Domine” (“Give peace in our time”).

Is it possible to hear six individual lines of a polyphonic piece? Is a gaggle of viols supposed to aspire to sound like an organ? What can individual players do to help? We’ll search for a magic ensemble sound and get acquainted with some beautiful new old music.

Players of all sizes of viol and all abilities warmly welcomed!

Winterlude!

On Dec. 18, an overflow audience heard almost 30 local vocalists and instrumentalists present “Winterlude.” The eclectic, uplifting evening of medieval, Renaissance and folk tunes celebrating the season was the brainchild of Early Music Open Mic organizers Heather Wilson and Nancy Grant as an alternative to the usual December EMOM.

Shira Kammen created and directed the program, which included viol players Caroline Armitage, Allison Balberg, Alice Benedict, Sue Jones and Heather Wilson. The evening concluded with vocal and instrumental variations of Praetorius’ In Dulci Jubilo – à2, à3, à4 and finally à8.

Winterlude was dedicated to Early Music Open Mic founder Sally Blaker, who moved from El Cerrito to North Carolina a year ago.

COFFEE pickup for PlayDay

In the last few months we’ve started using a new plan for coffee at our Playdays. On our registration form, you’ll see a check box where we ask for a volunteer to pick up coffee the morning of the PlayDay and bring it by 9:15 AM latest.

Our PlayDay Coordinator Allison will pre-order and pre-pay for it. The volunteer would then pick up the box of brewed coffee (and the cups, sugar, creamer & stirrers that come with) that morning from a local coffee shop.

If more than one person volunteers, Allison will choose one, and email them the receipt.
If no one volunteers... no coffee!

Barefoot Chamber Concerts
presents the Barefoot All-Stars –
The Consort Music of Orlando
Gibbons

Fri. Jan. 9, Berkeley

6:30 PM, Saint Mary Magdalen Church Parish Hall
 2005 Berryman St., Berkeley

Wendy Gillespie, Peter Hallifax, Julie Jeffrey,
 Shira Kammen, David Morris and Lynn
 Tetenbaum – viols

This year's midwinter viol consort concert features a return to the music of the great Orlando Gibbons 400 years (and a few days) after his passing in 1625. We'll play his amazing six-part consorts and the rarely-heard consorts that call for the "great dooble bass" viol.

A musical insider at the court of James I, Orlando Gibbons, the most famous scion of a well-employed family of musicians, was best known in his time for his skill as a keyboard player, and best remembered today as a composer of highly regarded and widely circulated sacred vocal music. But his position in the Prince of Wales' musical household, a lesser-celebrated aspect of his career, has won him a special place in the hearts of today's viol players. In this intimate setting, working within a small, musically-stimulating circle of England's best and brightest viol players, Gibbons created ensemble masterpieces of rare beauty, variety, and range of expression.

$25 (no one turned away for lack of funds).

As this mid-winter viol concert has been extremely popular in the past, we recommend reserving seats.

Email info@barefootchamberconcerts.com, then pay at the door.

In one rousing scene from a much-lauded work of music-theater, The Faggots and Their Friends Between Revolutions — which had its North American premiere at New York's Park Avenue Armory — a boom box and disco-inspired strobe light are interspersed with theorbo, harpsichord, and viola da gamba.

'Paradoxically, historical instruments bring a quality of timelessness'
